FOUNDRY MAY BE ENLARGED

William F. Scott of St. Louis and J. N. Dickerson of Keokuk, Iowa, Here Today.

LOOKING OVER CONDITIONS

Pending Decision on the Location of Consolidation of Three Large Plants.

William F. Scott of St. Louis, Missouri, and J. N. Dickerson of Keokuk, Iowa, were here today in consultation with the owners of the Madden & Company foundry and looking over the ground in preparation to the consolidation of two other iron foundries with the foundry in this city. The visitors were here examining the local conditions and the condition of the local plant.

It is planned to locate the Missouri and the Iowa plants in this city and make the three one large manufacturing establishment. Nothing definite has as yet been done, but it is very probable that the owners will arrange some sort of an agreement by tomorrow. They refused to give out anything definite today, but it is very probable that they will be able to make known their plans tomorrow.

Wallace Morgan, who is a stockholder in the local concern has been carrying on the business negotiations and has made several trips to and from St. Louis. Last week he returned from St. Louis with the agreement signed that the three factories will be consolidated. But is not as yet decided as to the location of the new factory.

The local promoters are very anxious to locate here and will do all within their power to pull the concern here. The plant would help much in Rushville's industrial growth and would employ a much greater number of men than is at present working there. The buildings would have to be enlarged and the plant as a whole would be a great benefit to the city.

William F. Scott, who is here today is president of the Andrus Pressed Brick factory, and has only recently purchased stock in the new concern. J. W. Arbuckle of Homer and Wallace Morgan of this city have stock in the new concern with the St. Louis manufacturers holding the majority. The local factory has been ready for expansion, but for the lack of funds were unable to branch out. With the assistance of foreign capital and the consolidation of the plants it is very likely that the plant will be made a big concern and one which will add much to the future of Rushville's prosperity.

HARD TO KEEP A JUSTICE

Squire Rock Travels Rocky Road and Offers Resignation.

They are having a hard time to keep a man in the office of justice of the peace of Hanover township at Morristown, says the Shelbyville Democrat. Early last summer Squire Thompson had such a hard time holding down the seat of justice with any degree of steadiness that he was forced to resign. Charles Rock, a well known resident of Hanover township was appointed to fill the vacancy, but does not seem to like the job. After only a few months of service Squire Rock Tuesday filed his resignation.

MAN CHARGED WITH HORSE THEFT FREE

Case Against Ralph Armstrong Indicted by Grand Jury For Grand Larceny Dismissed.

HAD GONE OVER THREE TERMS

The long pending case against Ralph Armstrong charged with grand larceny was dismissed this morning on motion. It will be remembered that Armstrong was charged with the theft of a horse several months ago. The case never came up for trial after the grand jury returned the indictment. The case has gone over for three terms now and the law permits the cases to be dismissed if they are not acted on in three terms.

CLAIMS TO HOLD COUNTY RECORD

L. B. Pierson, 69 Years Old, Made $2.20 a Day Shucking Corn at 3 Cents a Bushel.

CONUNDRUM TO BE SOLVED

This is a story of a conundrum which is or is not. L. B. Pierson of this county is sixty-nine years old and he brags that for his age he holds the record for shucking corn. He claims and he says that he can prove it to all unbelievers that he shucked corn for twenty-three days at three cents a bushel and averaged $2.20 a day. He has the evidence and says he can prove that he did that very thing. The question as it now stands, is how much corn did he shuck, how much money did he make, and where did he shuck the corn?

TO MAKE THIRD ATTEMPT

He left yesterday morning for the Capitol and after reaching Indianapolis learned that all of the trains east of Pittsburg were delayed on account of a storm. He returned to this city and will leave tomorrow for the same destination.

Friends of the Santa Claus of the unfortunate children of the city are still sending in contributions, and the fund continues to grow. The Woman's Relief Corps notified the manager of the fund that they would contribute $2 today. This is greatly appreciated, and it is thought that more clubs and organizations of the city could easily follow this example. In Connersville where a newspaper is conducting a similar department, many clubs of the city have helped out, and as a result their fund has been growing rapidly. It now exceeds the Republican fund by a few dollars.

The good people of the county and especially the children have shown that they have the right spirit and are coming out with their money. They have done nobly, but when it is taken into consideration that about 250 children are to be remembered it will be seen that more than the amount now on hand will have to be raised to make a creditable showing.

The workers are going right ahead with the money which has already been received and making plans for the little folks Christmas. The Tri Kappas will help out on the final work and the "Royal Rushers" are responding nobly to the call for assistance. These young women and the Tri Kappas will work under the direction of Mrs. Owen Kincaid, who has kindly consented to help out in the work, and will assist in making the bundles ready for delivery. The greater part of the purchasing is being done by Mrs. T. W. Betker and Mrs. A. L. Stewart, who also arranged the list of names, and investigated the cases to be helped.

DROVE OF HOGS STOLEN

Fred Wissing is Shelby County Victim of Stock Thieves.

Some fellow made unusual preparations to celebrate Christmas a few days ago when he drove five fine porkers off the farm of Fred Wissing in Hanover township in Shelby county. He had removed his goods to a farm in Henry county and returned to get the hogs the last thing.

Imagine his surprise when he returned to get the animals to find that some person had come during his absence and drove the hogs off the place.

The hogs were all large ones and had been fed especially to kill. If purchased on the market the hogs would doubtless cost about one hundred and fifty dollars.

SAYS HEALTH IS GOOD; THEN DIES

Mrs. Eliza J. Ramsey Stricken Suddenly While Attending Chickens and Death Comes Quickly.

HEART TROUBLE THE CAUSE

Survived by Nine Children—Funeral Services Held at the Home This Morning.

Mrs. Eliza J. Ramsey died very suddenly at her home, five miles southwest of Arlington, Monday night at six o'clock. Heart failure was thought to have been the cause. Mrs. Ramsey had been in the best of health until just a few minutes before her death. She had expressed only a few hours previous to her death that she was having better health now than she had had for several years.

After preparing the evening meal as usual, she was out attending to her poultry when suddenly one of her boys who was with her, observed her gasping for breath and in a fainting condition. She was immediately carried into the house and after she was placed in bed she gasped twice for breath and was gone. Dr. McCray of Morristown was hurriedly summoned in the meantime by a member of the family, but long before he could get there Mrs. Ramsey had died. On an examination he attributed her death to heart failure.

Mrs. Ramsey was sixty-four years of age and the mother of nine living children, three boys, Albert, Alfred and Willie, and six girls, Mrs. Kate Phares, Mrs. Nettie Myers, Mrs. Rose Beniffel, Mrs. Gertie Copple, Mrs. Alice Beniffel and Mrs. Dora Hultz. All the children live comparatively near their mother except Mrs. Hultz, who lives at Sharpsville, Ind., but fortunately was in the community visiting and had made preparations to spend a week with her mother soon.

The funeral was conducted at the home this morning and burial was in the Bennett cemetery.

The feast was served by John Madden and John Conroy. John Demmer presided as toastmaster, and speeches were made by Dr. L. C. Kigin, Anthony Schriebe, Tom Cauley, John Geraghty, Father W. J. Cronin, John Laughlin and Omer Collier.

SIDE WAS FILLED WITH GUN SHOTS

Jesse Craig and Green Whisman in Hunting Accident on Farm in Rush County Yesterday.

ANTICIPATED A DAY OF SPORT

When Jesse Craig and Green Whisman of near Blue Ridge, started out rabbit hunting Tuesday morning they anticipated a good day's sport without personal injury, says the Shelbyville Democrat. They were counting without that element of luck, however, that upsets the best laid plans.

When on a farm in Rush county, east of Blue Ridge, the gun held by Mr. Craig accidentally went off, and several shots penetrated the side of Mr. Whisman.

The injured man was immediately taken to Dr. G. I. Inlow's office, where medical attention was given. The injuries are not dangerous and Mr. Whisman will be about his accustomed work in a day or two.

HARRISON LINE IS INCORPORATED

Preliminary Work of Locating New Line From Cincinnati is Being Done.

ARE BUYING THE RIGHT OF WAY

That a new traction line will be built from Cincinnati to Harrison and later on to Indianapolis seems only "probable."

The Indianapolis Star contains the following in its railroad column:

"The Cincinnati, Harrison & Indianapolis Traction company, which proposes to build a road from Cincinnati to Indianapolis, writes that the company has taken out its preliminary incorporation papers and is now securing the right of way. The line will be built from Cincinnati to Harrison probably the coming year, it is stated, and it is intended to build through to Indianapolis as soon as arrangements can be made to secure the right of way and construct the road."

GAS IS VERY WEAK.

Shelbyville Democrat: Owing to the scarcity of gas many of Morristown's merchants have installed gasoline lighting plants. Several days ago an article in regard to the plentiful supply of gas at Gwynneville was published and people living in Morristown are at a loss to understand why the supply should be so plentiful there and so scarce in their town.

The Royal Arcanum will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the office of Fred Caldwell. As new officers will be elected and important business transacted a large attendance is desired.

DIVORCE DAY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Mrs. Emma G. Souder of Ripley Township Receives Decree From Husband, Noah Souder.

GAS MAN AND SOME LETTERS

Play an Important Part in the Trial—Other Cases Are Disposed Of.

The circuit court was transformed into a divorce court today. It was the day for divorces. The case of Emma G. Souder, living near Carthage, against Noah M. Souder, took about an hour of the court's time this morning. Mrs. Souder filed suit for divorce after her husband left her in November. She alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. On the witness stand this morning she said that her husband accused her of being too familiar with the gas man. She said that he made accusations against her one day when he returned and found her talking to the gas man, who was there to collect the monthly bill. She said his suspicions were all unfounded. Then there was some difficulty over a mortgage and a note. Since he left Mrs. Souder said that her husband returned one day and struck her after an argument over the note.

Several letters were introduced, one by the plaintiff and two by the defense which the plaintiff identified. The plaintiff refused to identify two others and said she had never seen them before. A mail carrier was called to the stand and he testified that Mrs. Souder gave him one of them herself. He said he put two one cent stamps on them for her. He was severely cross examined by the attorneys for the plaintiff.

After reading the letters and hearing the testimony Judge Sparks granted the divorce and restored the name Fouch to Mrs. Souder. He said that while the evidence had not been strong he was convinced that in this case a divorce was the best thing.

The divorce case of James E. Gardner against Lucy D. Gardner was continued until the next term of court.

Ethel Horrall received a divorce from her husband, Andrew Horrall, today. She was enjoined from marrying for two years. The husband did not appear to fight the case.

JAIL TO BE EMPTY AFTER NEXT FRIDAY

Sheriff King is Hoping That Dora Matlock Will be His Last Prisoner.

TERM EXPIRES ON JANUARY 1

Dora Matlock will be a free man again next Friday. And he will appreciate his freedom. He was sentenced for selling liquor without a license, and was one of the men caught in the net for bootlegging. He has been mighty lonesome in the jail for he has been the lone prisoner for several days. Unless some unforeseen developments arise the jail will be empty after Friday. And Sheriff King hopes that Matlock will be the last prisoner he will have the care of. His term of office expires January 1, and he is hoping that the jail will be empty for the remainder of his term.

WAR DECLARED ON STEEL TRUST

Toilers Tackle Capital In Its Stronghold.

THE ISSUES ARE NOW DRAWN

In a Formal Declaration, Representatives of Organized Labor in This Country Announce That the War Against Conditions Affecting Labor in the Plants of the United States Steel Corporation Is on and That These Conditions Must Be Alleviated—All the Forces of Government to Be Invoked in Struggle.

Pittsburg, Dec. 15.—By formal resolution, labor leaders who have been in conference for the past two days in the Monongahela House, have declared war on the United States Steel corporation. There are forty-five of the leading and most influential labor leaders in the conference and their decision that the big steel corporation must be curbed and forced to recognize the rights of the workmen is country-wide, the men of the convention report, and they call on the government, the governors of states, officials of the counties and municipalities to take steps to bring the big corporation to realize that the condition of the workmen in their plants must be alleviated. A committee will be appointed to call on the governors and other government officials and lay their grievance before them. Funds are also asked to aid them.

The statement in part is: "A crisis in the affairs of labor has arisen. The gigantic trust, the United States Steel corporation, has used and is using its great wealth and power in an effort to rob the toilers not only of a livelihood, but of their right of American manhood, and of the opportunity to resist its further encroachments. "The United States Steel corporation has declared war on labor. In its secret councils this corporation has decreed that the only obstacle to its complete sway—organized labor—shall be crushed. This corporation represents nothing but dollars, knowing neither body nor soul. Its god is the almighty dollar.

"We urge that an earnest, systematic effort be made to thoroughly and completely organize all employees in the steel and tin plate industry and subsidiary co-related trades. Owing to immediate pressing necessity, caused by the present strike and the indefensible hostile attitude of the United States Steel corporation, we earnestly call on all national and international unions of America to send at least one organizer to assist in this work; that the A. F. of L. place as many of its commissioned organizers as possible at work in a like manner and for the same purpose; we further urge and recommend that in all places where mills are located the central labor organizations appoint special committees with instructions to co-operate in this work. For educational purposes we recommend that this manifesto be made a special order in all central labor organizations at the first meeting in January, 1910.

"In view of the great wrongs perpetrated by the United States Steel corporation, not only against the workers, but the whole public generally, we recommend that a committee be appointed by this conference to wait upon the president of the United States, the president of the United States senate and the speaker of the house of representatives and such members of either house of congress as may be deemed advisable for the purpose of laying before them the grievances from which labor suffers at the hands of this corporation, and that the committee herein provided demand a thorough investigation as to the legality of the actions and the existence under the law of the United States Steel corporation.

"We therefore recommend that committees be appointed by this conference to wait upon the governors of states and such other official representatives of counties and municipalities as are in control where the United States Steel corporation has plants located, for the purpose of presenting to these officials the great wrongs inflicted upon the people of these communities, and that the committee demand an investigation of the complaints made and where charges made are substantiated by evidence, the officers responsible therefor be removed, and the wrongs immediately righted."

Bertha Leitzau Acquitted.

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 15.—Bertha Leitzau, who shot and killed Samuel J. The girl for years had been wronged by the dead man, who had promised to marry her.

STILL MISSING

Louisville Police Have No Clue to Little Alma Kellner's Whereabouts.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 15.—Money in the form of a reward is now believed by the police to be the only means which will restore Alma Kellner, the missing eight-year-old Louisville girl, to her home. Several members of her family are said to share this opinion, and Circuit Judge Joseph Pryor called on Governor Willson and asked him to offer a reward. Governor Willson said he had no authority to offer a reward.

Frank Fehr, the millionaire brewer and cousin of the Kellners, said that he believed Alma had been kidnapped and was being held for ransom somewhere in Louisville. He believed a demand for money would be made in time, but thought the wide publicity given the case would postpone any advances by the kidnapers for the present. Mr. Fehr said he had been strongly advised against offering any reward. The police are without any sign of a clue.

POSTAL CARRIERS FOR LITTLE TOWNS

This Is the Object of a Bill Now in Congress.

Washington, Dec. 15.—If a bill introduced in the house by Representative Griest of Pennsylvania goes through, folks who live in the little towns of just a few thousand population will have all the postal facilities enjoyed by people in the great cities. Of course it will put the daily gatherings at the combination general store and post-office out of business, but Mr. Griest thinks the good people of these heretofore neglected little towns won't mind that in their happiness of having mail delivered right at the door. The bill proposes the establishment of an urban mail delivery service in such little towns where there are second or third class postoffices, and it contemplates a feature of the mail service which may be viewed as an extension of the rural delivery, while in fact it also embodies the principles of the city delivery service.

"There is a gap between the city and rural mail delivery," said Mr. Griest, "which is literally a discrimination against many millions of people residing in approximately five thousand of the smaller cities or towns throughout the country. These citizens are supporting a class of post-offices which do not add to the postal deficit. The cost will hardly approximate $1,000 per office per annum, as practically none of the smaller presidential offices would require more than two carriers, while in the majority of cases an adequate service could be accorded with a single carrier.

"The creation of an urban delivery service will be sure to result beneficially to the millions of citizens living in the smaller cities and towns who justly appeal to the congress asking the removal of the discrimination in the collection and delivery of mail matter."

Bendernagel Enters Complete Denial of Sugar Fraud Charges.

New York, Dec. 15.—A remarkable array of character witnesses was called in the sugar trial before Judge Martin in the United States circuit court on behalf of James F. Bendernagel, the former cashier of the Havemeyer & Elder refinery in Williamsburg. Among those who bore flattering testimony to Bendernagel's honesty and integrity were a score of men prominent in business and public life in this city.

Bendernagel took the witness stand in his own behalf and was examined at length by his own counsel. In his capacity as cashier the witness said that he had only to pay out money on orders from other people and that he knew nothing whatever about the weighing of sugar on the docks nor any of the work done there. He knew the sugar company's checkers, but never saw them while at work, nor had he had anything to do with fixing their salaries. He declared he had not been in the custom house but twice in the last twenty years, and he knew none of the officials there. He had never requested the removal of any government employee nor had he paid them money under any circumstances. There was no possible advantage to him, he said, in trying to defraud the government, and if that had been done he knew nothing about it.

Panama, Dec. 15.—Notwithstanding the order of the supreme court annulling the order of deportation against W. P. Spiller gave his friends at the steamer to understand that he intends to fight the matter further, and that he might land at Jamaica.

Republicans ought to avail themselves of the services of the best organizers to be had. There is a stiff fight ahead. If it is to be won there must be harmony, thorough, working organization, awakened interest and the hardest sort of hustling. This is a good time to consider the Republican party and what is due the party as a great force for good government and wise administration. The cause rises to first importance.

If prosperity is worth anything, or desirable, then the policies that make prosperity possible are worthy of consideration and preservation. If the beneficial policies are worth anything to the people then the political party which frames urges and enacts those beneficial policies into law is worthy to be respected and supported. In view of the fact that the opposition offers nothing but a pledge to destroy Republican policies and to jeopardize prosperity by foolish agitation, it is not remarkable that the people rally to the Republican party banner of safety. It is with all this in mind that the people of Indiana are preparing to retire some eleven Democratic congressmen who draw pay as representatives of that many districts in Indiana. It is the wise thing to safeguard prosperity.

The Woman With the Mother's Hand

Dedicated to Mesdames Betker and Stewart in behalf of their kindly and charitable goodness bestowed upon the unfortunate of the city.

Bless thee! Serenade the band
The woman with the Mother's Hand!
Sing her praises to the skies,
Sing them into paradise!
Long may her virtue truthful stand!
The woman with the Mother's Hand.

With heart unfettered by a sting
Midst impoverished sick, the seasons bring;
Her eager thoughts reek to mature Benevolence on the worthy poor;
In hundreds of unfortunate Children love to contemplate.

With busy feet, with withering eyes,
Seeks to comfort families;
With consolation in the joy,
She clothes the girl and feeds the boy.

Days of action, nights awake,
Her joy is giving, not to take;
Her compensation—God has said—
"The good shall reap when life is sped."

So plodded she, a hungry soul,
Starved to aid a man or mole.

The pen may laud, or voice may sing,
But naught can still penury's sting;
For usefulness—mongst they who need

Roof and food by God-love deed—
The rich must fill—by her command
The woman with the Mother's Hand.
She speaks soft words to poor or grand

The woman with the Mother's Hand—
The fevered brow, the chilling form
Of fireless hearth, or raging storm;
The widow old, the orphan child,
The mothered lass, her love defiled,
Or soldier brave, infirm to death,
Or thee, thyself, in fleeting breath—
(Mayhaps thine hour is but one hence
Mayhaps the grace of Providence—
Some love of thine, an angel sweet—
Has called unto the judgment seat!)

All crimes of these and many more,
Are hid behind her sheltering door,
Where life and death the years have spanned—

The woman with the Mother's Hand,
Where cradled elbow swayed to nurse,
A heavenly hope, or sinwrought curse
Where Croesus born anew, perhaps,
Will spurn the beggar's tinkling traps,
Where once again a voice has sprung,
That startles artful ear and tongue.

All said and sung, respites planned
The woman with the Mother's Hand.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

AS A GIFT FROM HEAVEN.

(Greensburg News.)

A college song, sent her by her brother, who is a student at Indiana University, was responsible for the restoration of Miss Ada Magee's voice after noted specialists had failed.

Seven years ago on January 8, Miss Ada Magee, only daughter of George Magee, a wealthy dry goods merchant of Greensburg, retired, possessing full vocal powers. On arising the next morning she was unable to talk above a whisper.

With her father she visited eminent specialists in all parts of the country, but none was able to restore to the girl her voice, and as the years passed she became reconciled to such a fate—joyous in the fact that even the power to whisper was not denied her.

Recently her brother, a student in Indiana University, sent her a college song. As she whispered the title over preparatory to playing the music, speech returned. Since then the vocal chords have become responsive to her will and she sings, laughs and speaks as she did seven years ago.

MUST GO TO PRISON.

(Connorsville News.)

John Wilson will be taken to the penitentiary at Michigan City, one day this week. This is the statement of Sheriff Miller, made Tuesday afternoon.

D. W. McKee argued before Judge Gray for a new trial, Tuesday morning, basing his argument in part on the fact that the evidence of William Fenton, at a former trial, had been admitted and that the State could have found Fenton had they made proper effort. There was no argument by the State's attorneys, as Judge Gray overruled the motion for a new trial, re-sentenced Wilson to prison for life, and the sheriff was given instructions to prepare to remove Wilson to prison.

Sheriff Miller says he wants to give John's father time to come and see him before he is taken away. The father is about the only person, exclusive of his attorneys, who have shown much interest in John since he was found guilty. Wilson was in the court room Tuesday morning. He was looking well and appeared to have taken on flesh since the trial.

It is probable that the next and only remaining step to be taken in behalf of Wilson will be an appeal to the Supreme court.

Story Without a Name

"And so," dictated the business man, "if you will kindly excuse my tardiness, I will take up this matter next week. Yours respectfully"—

The stenographer looked up. "Are you going to answer that man who wanted to know about that New York business?" she reminded him.

The business man yawned. "No," he said, stretching himself, "I'll let that go over until Monday."

"Brownson & Co.'s man was in when you were at lunch," said the chief clerk, looking in at the door. "I told him you'd be back soon."

"Well," answered the business man, "if he comes back today tell him I'll make out that list for him—let me see, Tuesday, I guess. Thanks—giving always makes me feel lazy."

The telephone rang. "Yes, it's I," admitted the business man into mouthpiece. "Oh, by Jove, old man! I nearly let that slip my mind. Call me up about it again tomorrow will you? All right. Thanks. Good-by."

He turned to the stenographer. "I guess I'll call it a day's work," he said, looking at his watch, which showed 3:30. "I'm going home."

The wind, blowing in from an open window, slammed the hall door, which the clerk had left open. It caused a jar that shook a card from the wall.

"Hang that up again, Willie," said the business man to the office boy, as he opened the door and went out.

And Willie hung it up again. It was a heavy card and bore the words in big black letters.

SUBSTITUTE FOR CHRISTMAS VENISON.

Pick out a fine leg of mutton and let it hang twelve days in a cool place. Then wash it thoroughly and put it in a dripping-pan on a grate, so it will heat through thoroughly but will not cook.

Remove it from the pan and pour into the pan a quart of rich gravy. Cut the mutton from the bones in slices not quite half an inch thick, add a little tomato sauce or catsup an salt to suite taste, then lay in the slices of meat and cook about twenty-five minutes, or until done.

When nearly done add two table-spoonfuls barley or current jelly. Serve hot as soon as cooked. We have used this when venison could not be obtained on Christmas day.

CHAPTER XVII.

A Hint of Scandal.

In giving the gist of what happened at the inquest, I have only one excuse—to recall to the reader the events of the night of Arnold Armstrong's murder. Many things had occurred which were not brought out at the inquest and some things were told there that were new to me. Altogether, it was a gloomy affair, and the six men in the corner, who constituted the coroner's jury, were evidently the merest puppets in the hands of that all-powerful gentlemen, the coroner.

Gertrude and I sat well back, with our veils down. There were a number of people I knew: Barbara Fitzhugh, in extravagant mourning—she always went into black on the slightest provocation, because it was becoming—and Mr. Jarvis, the man who had come over from the Greenwood club the night of the murder. Mr. Harton was there, too, looking impatient as the inquest dragged, but alive to every particle of evidence. From a corner Mr. Jamieson was watching the proceedings intently.

Dr. Stewart was called first. His evidence was told briefly, and amounted to this: On the Sunday morning previous, at a quarter before five, he had been called to the telephone. The message was from Mr. Jarvis, who asked him to come at once to Sunnyside, as there had been an accident there, and Mr. Arnold Armstrong had been shot. He dressed hastily, gathered up some instruments, and drove to Sunnyside.

He was met by Mr. Jarvis, who took him at once to the east wing. There, just as he had fallen, was the body of Arnold Armstrong. There was no need of the instruments; the man was dead. In answer to the coroner's question—no, the body had not been moved, save to turn it over. It lay at the foot of the circular staircase. Yes, he believed death had been instantaneous. The body was still somewhat warm and rigor mortis had not set in. It occurred late in cases of sudden death. No, he believed the probability of suicide might be eliminated; the wounds could have been self-inflicted, but with difficulty, and there had been no weapon found.

The doctor's examination was over, but he hesitated and cleared his throat.

"Mr. Coroner," he said, "at the risk of taking up valuable time, I would like to speak of an incident that may or may not throw some light on this matter."

The audience was alert at once. "Kindly proceed, doctor," the coroner said.

"My home is in Englewood, two miles from Casanova," the doctor began. "In the absence of Dr. Walker, a number of Casanova people have been consulting me. A month ago—five weeks, to be exact—a woman whom I had never seen came to my office. She was in deep mourning and kept her veil down, and she brought for examination a child, a boy of six. The little fellow was ill; it looked like typhoid, and the mother was frantic. She wanted a permit to admit the youngster to the Children's hospital in town here, where I am a member of the staff, and I gave her one. The incident would have escaped me, but for a curious thing. Two days before Mr. Armstrong was shot, I was sent for to go to the Country club; some one had been struck with a golf-ball that had gone wild. It was late when I left—I was on foot, and about a mile from the club, on the Clayburg road. I met two people. They were disputing violently, and I had no difficulty in recognizing Mr. Armstrong. The woman, beyond doubt, was the one who had consulted me about the child."

At this hint of scandal, Mrs. Ogden Fitzhugh sat up very straight. Jamieson was looking slightly skeptical, and the coroner made a note.

"The Children's hospital, you say, doctor?" he asked.

"Yes. But the child, who was entered as Lucien Wallace, was taken away by his mother two weeks ago. I have tried to trace them and failed."

All at once I remembered the telegram sent to Louise by some one signed F. L. W.—presumably Dr. Walker. Could the veiled woman be the Nina Carrington of the message? But it was only idle speculation. I had no way of finding out, and the inquest was proceeding.

The report of the coroner's physician came next. The post-mortem examination showed that the bullet had entered the chest in the fourth left intercostal space and had taken an oblique course downward and backward, piercing both the heart and lungs. The left lung was collapsed.

"My Home Is in Englewood," the Doctor Began.

and the exit point of the ball had been found in the muscles of the back to the left of the spinal column. It was improbable that such a wound had been self-inflicted, and its oblique downward course pointed to the fact that the shot had been fired from above. In other words, as the murdered man had been found dead at the foot of a staircase, it was probable that the shot had been fired by some one higher up on the stairs. There were no marks of powder. The bullet, a 38 caliber, had been found in

Cause of Alarm

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating Symptoms That Should Not Be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire of the system for food necessary to replace natural body waste. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicates indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health, and insatiable appetite is a common symptom of diabetes.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, healthiest and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them.

We honestly believe Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets to be without equal. They are made from the prescription of a physician who devoted his time to the study and treatment of stomach trouble. They give very prompt relief, stimulating the secretion of gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, aid to good digestion and assimilation, regulate the bowels, and promote nutrition.

We urge you to try a 25-cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which give 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Rushville only at our store—The Rexall Store. Lytle's Drug Store.

For The Sake of Others

Considers it Her Duty to Tell.

I write this for publication with the hope that it will influence others who suffer as I did to try the great Root Juice remedy. The wonderful medicine has done so much good for me that I feel it my duty to tell it. For years I spent a life of misery, but thanks to the great discovery, I am now free from every ache or pain. I, like many others, was very skeptical when the papers was first told of the many hundreds of cures Root Juice was making, but after seeing several people that were using it I concluded to try it, although I felt that every organ of my body was almost worn out. My liver was torpid, my kidneys were weak and my stomach was in a horrible condition. At times it felt like it was full of rocks. A great deal of gas formed and I had weak spells frequently and was badly constipated. My appetite was very poor and even in hot weather my hands and feet were cold. I was using some kind of medicine most of the time, without much benefit. After taking the Juice a few days I began to improve. I have used four bottles and am feeling better than I have for twenty years, and I believe the remedy has permanently cured me—Mrs. J. A. Colbetr, R. R. No. 7, Ft. Wayne, Ind. The great remedy has done worlds of good here, as any one can learn by calling at Wolcott's drug store. Root Juice is sold for $1 a bottle, or three for 2.50.

the dead man's clothing, and was shown to the jury.

Mr. Jarvis was called next, but his testimony amounted to little. He had been summoned by telephone to Sunnyside, had come over at once with the steward and Mr. Winthrop, at present out of town. They had been admitted by the housekeeper, and had found the body lying at the foot of the staircase. He had made a search for a weapon, but there was none around. The outer entry door in the east wing had been unfastened and was open about an inch.

I had been growing more and more nervous. When the coroner called Mr. John Bailey, the room was filled with suppressed excitement. Mr. Jamieson went forward and spoke a few words to the coroner, who nodded. Then Halsey was called.

"Mr. Innes," the coroner said, "will you tell under what circumstances you saw Mr. Arnold Armstrong the night he died?"

"I saw him first at the Country club," Halsey said quietly. He was rather pale, but very composed. "I stopped there with my automobile for gasoline. Mr. Armstrong had been playing cards. When I saw him there he was coming out of the cardroom talking to Mr. John Bailey."

"The nature of the discussion—was it amicable?"

Halsey hesitated. "They were having a dispute," he said. "I asked Mr. Bailey to leave the club with me and come to Sunnyside over Sunday."

"Isn't it a fact, Mr. Innes, that you took Mr. Bailey away from the club-house because you were afraid there would be blows?"

"The situation was unpleasant," Halsey said evasively.

"At that time had you any suspicion that the Traders' bank had been wrecked?"

"No."

"What occurred next?"

"Mr. Bailey and I talked in the billiard room until 2:30."

"And Mr. Arnold Armstrong came there, while you were talking?"

"Yes. He came about half-past two. He rapped at the east door, and I admitted him."

The silence in the room was intense. Mr. Jamieson's eyes never left Halsey's face.

"Will you tell us the nature of his errand?"

"He brought a telegram that had come to the club for Mr. Bailey."

"He was sober?"

"Perfectly, at that time. Not earlier."

"Was not his apparent friendliness a change from his former attitude?"

"Yes. I did not understand it."

"How long did he stay?"

"About five minutes. Then he left by the east entrance."

"What occurred then?"

"We talked for a few minutes, discussing a plan. Mr. Bailey had in mind. Then I went to the stables, where I kept my car, and got it out."

"Leaving Mr. Bailey alone in the billiard room?"

"My sister was there."

Mrs. Ogden Fitzhugh had the courage to turn and eye Gertrude through her lorgnon.

"And then?"

"I took the car along the lower road, not to disturb the household. Mr. Bailey came down across the lawn, through the hedge, and got into the car on the road."

"Then you know nothing of Mr. Armstrong's movements after he left the house?"

"Nothing. I read of his death Monday evening for the first time."

"Mr. Bailey did not see him on his way across the lawn?"

"I think not. If he had seen him he would have spoken of it."

"Thank you. That is all. Miss Gertrude Innes."

Gertrude's replies were fully as concise as Halsey's. Mrs. Fitzhugh subjected her to a close inspection, commencing with her hat and ending with her shoes. I flatter myself she found nothing wrong with either her gown or her manner, but poor Gertrude's testimony was the reverse of comforting. She had been summoned, she said, by her brother, after Mr. Armstrong had gone. She had waited in the billiard room with Mr. Bailey until the automobile had been ready. Then she had locked the door at the foot of the staircase, and, taking a lamp, had accompanied Mr. Bailey to the main entrance of the house, and had watched him cross the lawn. Instead of going at once to her room, she had gone back to the billiard room for something which had been left there. The cardroom and billiard room were in darkness. She had groped around, found the article she was looking for, and was on the point of returning to her room, when she had heard some one fumbling at the lock at the east outer door. She had thought it was probably her brother, and had been about to go to the door, when she heard it open. Almost immediately there was a shot, and she had run panic-stricken through the drawing room and had roused the house.

"You heard no other sound?" the coroner asked. "There was no one with Mr. Armstrong when he entered?"

"It was perfectly dark. There were no voices and I heard nothing. There was just the opening of the door, the shot, and the sound of somebody falling."

BANQUET TONIGHT

You Can Safely Eat One if You Take Two Mi-o-na Tablets Afterwards. F. B. Johnson Guarantees Them.

It is really a pitiful sight to see so many thousand of people worrying about what they can eat and what they can't eat.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Rushville People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's Disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Rushville proof.

Harrison Levi, farmer, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I have tried a great many kidney remedies and I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be the best. I procured them at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store and besides strengthening my back, they remove the pains in my loins."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be over-persuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep bowels sweet and clean. Recommended by druggists because of their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.

GEN. DUDLEY AT DEATH'S DOOR

Former Prominent Indianan Dying At Washington.

ONCE AN ACTIVE POLITICIAN

Commissioner of Pensions Under the Administrations of Presidents Garfield and Arthur, General Dudley Was Prominent in Politics Until the Publication of Historic "Blocks of Five" Letter Put Him Out of the Game and Closed the Doors of the White House in His Face—Has For Years Practiced Law in Washington.

Washington, Dec. 15.—General William Wade Dudley, formerly of Indiana, commissioner of pensions under the administrations of Presidents Garfield and Arthur, and one time well known as a Republican politician, is dying of Bright's disease at his home in Washington. General Dudley has been practicing law in Washington since he retired from politics in 1885. General Dudley took an active part in the movement which led to the first nomination of Benjamin Harrison, and was prominent in the Republican committee management that followed. He had been a close personal friend of General Harrison, but the publication of the "blocks of five" letter, which has become historical in politics, and which was sent out over the signature of General Dudley to political workers in Indiana, so angered General Harrison that after his election he sent word to General Dudley not to visit the White House, and refused to recognize him in any way.

SUICIDE DEFEATS POLICY

Appellate Court Upholds the Validity of the Provision.

Indianapolis, Dec. 15.—By a decision of the appellate court, the validity of a provision in a life insurance policy that there shall be no liability in case of suicide, "whether member was sane or insane at the time of death," has been upheld.

The Knights of the Modern Maccabees refused to pay a policy on the life of Joseph B. Kunze, formerly of Peru, on the ground that he hanged himself. The widow replied that he was insane when he did so, and that the coroner had returned a verdict that his death was caused by "suicidal hanging, following or as a result of a demented mind."

A provision in the policy that "no benefit certificate of any member shall be invalid where the member has been adjudged insane prior to his death, by any court of competent jurisdiction," was relied on, but the court held that the suicide defeated the policy.

Judge Watson said: "This association had the right to make such a contract. * * The language is plain and unambiguous, and means just what it says."

FIXING FOR BATTLE

Indiana Democrats Preparing to Organize For Next Year's Campaign.

Indianapolis, Dec. 15.—The Democratic state central committee has fixed Jan. 8 as the date for re-organization. It is understood that U. S. Jackson, present chairman, will be re-elected. Nearly all the present committeemen will be re-elected, one of the exceptions being James Kirby Risk, for many years Bryan's chief confidential man in Indiana. Opposition has developed to him because he supported a Republican, his law partner, for mayor in the recent city election at Lafayette, and it is believed that this will defeat him.

PRISON FOR EDITOR

Convicted of Burglary Charge, Akers Attributes Downfall to Booze.

Cloverdale, Ind., Dec. 15.—John A. Akers, editor of the Cloverdale Graphic and a lawyer, has been sentenced to from two to fourteen years in the penitentiary for burglary. For two months there had been mysterious burglaries of grocery and drygoods stores and meat markets here, and one night he was caught in the act of burglarizing a grocery. In a pathetic speech after his sentence he declared that whisky had been his ruin.

Names Preacher as Co-Respondent. Springfield, Ill., Dec. 15.—The Rev. Jordan Chavis, chaplain of the Eighth Infantry, is named in a suit for divorce. Mrs. Mary Carter seeks a divorce from Joseph Carter, alleging cruelty. Carter, in a cross bill, names Chavis as co-respondent.

Hunter's Painful Plight. Elizabethtown, Ind., Dec. 15.—George Rogers, aged fifty, had both bones in his right leg broken while hunting in the woods near here. Rogers was alone and was forced to crawl more than half a mile through the snow and underbrush before he received aid.

Presbyterian Church Burned. Valparaiso, Ind., Dec. 15.—The interior of the Presbyterian church was gutted by fire. The blaze originated from a furnace fire. The loss will reach several thousand dollars.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK } ss. Rochester, N. Y.

County of Monroe } ss. Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When

I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1909. Notary Public.
